The promotional materials must be accurate and not include false or misleading information.

Scope

This policy applies to all marketing operations of NC and the representation of education agents when recruiting students on behalf of NC.

Policy

NC will market their courses and services in a professional and accurate way and will maintain the integrity and reputation of the education industry as per the ESOS Act and NVETR Act requirements.

The NC Marketing Director will take all reasonable steps to ensure that the information included in the marketing materials is accurate. The RTO Manager will ensure the materials are developed and designed in compliance with the relevant SRTO and ESOS National Code requirements. The RTO Manager and the Marketing Director ensure the implementation of the procedure below in support of the policy and ensure that any promotional material, practices and changes are communicated to all education agents representing NC.

Procedure

This procedure should be followed for any marketing materials prepared by NC. This includes publications in print and publications available online. The procedure covers the steps of creating the NC marketing materials and the related procedure that marketing practice should follow.

Marketing Material Development, Design and Distribution

When marketing materials are developed and designed, either electronic or on paper, they will be read and reviewed (using the NC Marketing Material Accuracy Checklist), by the Marketing Director to ensure that information is accurate and not misleading.

Steps of creating marketing material

1. The PEO or Marketing Director is responsible for initiating the development of marketing materials or the editing of existing materials and delegating the task accordingly.
2. The Administration Manager reviews draft copies of all marketing material to ensure they meet the compliance requirements of the ESOS National Code and SRTO. The NC Marketing Material Accuracy Checklist must be completed.

3. The Administration Manager will send the reviewed draft to the Marketing Director together with the completed NC Marketing Material Accuracy Checklist.
4. The Marketing Director will make further changes if required and send to the PEO for approval.
5. Once the PEO has approved the material, the Marketing Director is responsible for ensuring the effective distribution of the new material, the removal of old material and for informing all staff members of the changes.
